Phonogram List

The following lesson sets use this resource:

- Introducing Phonograms
- Reviewing Phonograms
- Reading Words with Phonograms
- Practice Games

This list of words contains high frequency phonograms. Phonograms are body-rime units referring to the (1) body, the vowel letters in a syllable and all the letters after it, and (2) rime, the vowel sound and all the sounds after it. These units are sometimes called word families, but that term refers to groups of similarly spelled words with related meanings. As a result, that term is not used here.

These are the highest frequency phonograms in an analysis of words that are contained in texts designed for students in Grades 1 to 5. The only phonograms listed have at least 10 monosyllabic words that contain that phonogram. The list does not include phonograms that contain a schwa (/ə/) sound or that are more than 3 syllables in length. They are categorized by the frequency of the phonograms in one-syllable words. Most common names have been removed. The names of locations and groups of people remain. This list is not exhaustive. There are other patterns that were not included because they were lower in frequency.

This list is designed to be used in combination with the Introducing, Reviewing, and Reading Words with Phonogram Lesson Guides for the Foundational Reading Lesson Set. The list was created by Devin Kearns and the lesson guides by Devin Kearns (devin.kearns@gmail.com) and Marcia Ferreira.
